ARE MIGHTY MAD.

St. Joseph Republicans on the Appointment of Their New Postmaster.

IT MEANS HAMILTON'S DEFEAT.

L. J. Merchant Had the Indorsements but Woodruff Hypnotized the Congressman.

In the history of politics in St. Joseph nothing has ever created so much bitterness as has the appointment of Fred A. Woodruff to the office of postmaster.

The ill feeling is not confined to the supporters of L. J. Merchant, Mr. Woodruff's opponent, but to the mass of the city's population and to the great majority of the patrons of the office outside of the city's boundaries.

St. Joseph township, the residents of which all get their mail at St. Joseph is greatly wrought up. It is said that of the township's population only two signed Mr. Woodruff's petition, while L. J. Merchant had a score of names from there.

The opposition against Woodruff is not based upon probable incompetency or upon moral conditions, but alone upon the fact that his residence in the city has been so brief that he is not regarded as a resident.

Mr. Woodruff, it is contended, had never considered himself a citizen of St. Joseph until after he was slated for the postoffice. That he had no intention of locating there is shown by an article published in the Palladium about the time of his retirement from the county clerk's office, which stated that he would probably engage in business in Benton Harbor.

The leading business and professional men of St. Joseph denounce the appointment most determinedly. They contend that they are the victims of a gang of political heelers who are disposed to control local politics against the wishes of the majority and in the interest of their own selfish gain. The remonstrances do not come entirely from Merchant's friends, but from the people.

THE NEWS today interviewed no less than 50 representative men, all of whom denounced the appointment as an outrage—as an insult to the republican party in St. Joseph. The idea of importing a man to take the most valuable plum the city contained struck them as being an imposition which demanded prompt and effective retaliation.

"Woodruff's leaders have been traitors to us," declared a prominent republican to THE NEWS. "Without conferring with us they secretly lay the matter before Congressman Hamilton and took advantage of his weakness and shortsightedness to push the misrepresented claims of Woodruff forward. We were not consulted and with no means of presenting our side of the case we lay down expecting that Congressman Hamilton would deal fairly but we were disappointed."

Threats were made by all those seen by THE NEWS and the probability of Mr. Hamilton getting back another year is less roseate than before Mr. Woodruff's appointment. The war veterans are arrayed against him, not alone on account of his turning down L. J. Merchant, a member of the G. A. R. but from the standpoint of principle. The veterans hang together with uncomfortable tenacity, as many politicians before Mr. Hamilton's time have discovered, and the posts in the district will probably be united against him when he bobs up for another term.

Mr. Hamilton had been asked to submit the postoffice question to either a vote of the people or the patrons of the office. He refused to do either.

"Following out the new line of policy," said a prominent republican to THE NEWS, "A. Vincent, Mr. Woodruff's principal backer, with the endorsement of Editor Gilson, is expected to provide the next mayor of Benton Harbor from Chicago, and the next governor of Michigan will come from Hawaii."

BENTON HARBOR MAN

The Politician Forced on St. Joseph as Postmaster.

In its issue of November 7, 1896, the Benton Harbor Palladium, organ of the Hamilton-Woodruff brand of republic-cans, said:

"County Clerk Fred A. Woodruff will take a well-earned vacation and in company with Ira A.
Smith will ride to Florida on a tandem to spend a portion of the winter in the sunny south. He will probably engage in business in Benton Harbor upon his return"

This is the man with foreign interests who has been thrust upon the republicans of St. Joseph as their postmaster.

INDIANS' WINDFALL.

Chief Pokagon's Tribe Will Receive $1,000 Each From Chicago Possessions.

CHIEF INTERVIEWS W. S. COX.

And a Conference Will Be Held in Benton Harbor Next Wednesday.

The prospects of the Pottowatomie Indians receiving $1,000,000 for the 130 acres of Chicago real estate which it has been discovered they hold a title to are roseate. Simon Pokagon, chief of the band, arrived here yesterday morning from Chicago where he had an interview with William S. Cox, 202 East Huron street, who has possession of most of the property.

Mr. Cox is disposed to deal fairly with the Indians. He wants a title to his property which he can only procure of the Indians and he therefore is anxious to settle the claim as soon as possible. A conference between him and a committee of Indians selected to investigate the claim will be held here next Wednesday. The committee is composed of Chief Pokagon, William Pokagon, Samuel Weesaw and Isaac Quigno, all of Hartford, and Joseph H.
Cushway, of Fern.

There are several parties who claim a title to the land by right of possession, but most of the property is held by Mr.
Cox who is disposed to compensate the Indians and receive a title. If the property brings $1,000,000, as the Indians expect, each member of the band will receive $1,000. Mr. Cox has furnished Pokagon with the following letter, describing the land and conveying the surprising intelligence that the 130 acres is not one per cent of the land to which the Indians are entitled.

"To whom it may concern: Simon Pokagon called on me at my home, October 1, for the purpose of learning my intentions and purposes in regard to perfecting and quieting my title to the piece of land lying north of the Chicago river, being that strip of accretions east of the north half of fractional section 10 and that strip of land lying east of fractional section 10 and that strip of land lying east of fractional section three, township 39, north of range 14, east of the third principal meridian.

"It is absolutely necessary that each Pottowatomie should be true to their interests and all should be one in regard to their rights to land which their fathers have never disposed of. This case of mine now pending hearing will settle the question as to whether the Indians have the sovereign right to land or not. This piece of land claimed by me is not one per cent of the land which rightfully belongs to the Pottowatomie Indians. I want each one to help me in every way they can to establish this fact. There is no other way to obtain your just and lawful rights but to help me by furnishing me with all the proof and evidence in each one's possession."

"Yours faithfully,

A GREAT STRIKE.

The Sulphur Springs Will Prove Such to the City.

Mayor Bell is very much enthused over the prospects of the development of the sulphur springs. "It is the greatest thing that Benton Harbor has ever had in sight," he said this morning. The only point the mayor is doubtful about is the quantity of water that can be obtained. He believes the quality superior to the Mt. Clemens water.

It will be necessary to raise at least $50,000 to develop the spring and erect the necessary buildings. When the plans are all arranged it is thought that it will be easy to interest capital in the enterprise.

BONES YET THE THEME

Osteologist is the Big Man in the Celebrated Chicago Wife-Murder Case.

DORSEY'S CLAIM AGAIN DISPUTED.

Three More Professors Declare the State's Collection of Bones a Job Lot and the Alleged Temporal Bone a Piece of Osteous Slag, So to Speak—Fight to Go on This Week—Comment on the Evidence So Far Given.

Chicago, Oct. 4.—The close of the sixth week of the celebrated trial of Adolph L. Luetger for the alleged murder of his wife showed the case far from completed. Luetger's story has not been heard. The big sausage-maker may be on the witness stand a week.
It will take him over one court day to tell his story under the lead of his counsel. Then will come the cross-examination. Luetger will be carried through the history of his life. Luetger has all along expressed an intense desire to talk. He has repeatedly declared that he wanted to tell his story to the jury. Saturday was a field day for the defense and it was weight of evidence in number of witnesses the state has no human bones in its collection.

Depends on the Sesamoid Bone.
Three other osteologists entered the arena, and they fixed the identity of the femur, the alleged rib and the supposititious temporal bone as something else than human. The only thing left then in the state's collection of bones which they did not positively identify as something else than the remnant of a human being was the sesamoid. None of them, however, said the sesamoid was human. They left its ancestry in a shadow of doubt from which it may be difficult to lift it. According to their testimony it will be as easy to believe it is a knee cap of a little dog or a sesamoid from the hind foot of a hog as it is to conclude it is a bone that grew on the human joint of a woman whose whereabouts, living or dead, is an unsettled question.

Alleged Rib Traced to Its Home.
Two of the experts were veterinarians
—Dr. L. A. Merrill and Dr. J. Hughes, the third was Dr. W. T. Eckley, professor of anatomy, connected with the Northwestern university. The most important part of the osteological combat was where Dr. L. A. Merrill recognized the alleged rib. That queer looking piece of bone which was called a rib from a human was traced to its lair by Dr. Merrill and there it was found in the foot of an ox, which he said was its proper abiding place ever since the first ox. This piece of bone he named the navicular bone. Dr. Hughes agreed exactly with Dr. Merrill, and Dr. Eckley declared that he could not possibly place the alleged rib in any particular animal, adding that "it would require the most extravagant speculation to do so." The court ordered this stricken out.

Alleged Piece of Temporal Bone.
Possibly the fight has raged around the identity of the alleged temporal bone as hotly as any other state exhibit. All the experts for the defense have declared that it lacked characteristics that would place it anywhere and that it is the temporal bone of nothing, but simply a lot of bones fused together. This is why Dr. Merrill rejects it as human. "The chief reason for arriving at this conclusion is that we have on the upper border of this specimen a compact tissue between two layers of cancellated tissue. Now, there is no such thing in the organization of
any animal—a layer of compact tissue lying between two layers of cancellated tissue—no such an example, consequently it is not a true organization. In order to identify this as a temporal bone, I should want to see some familiar structures." None of such structures, he said, were present.

SOME TALK OF CONTRADICTIONS.
Dr. Allport Spills a State Contention—
Features of the Trial.

There has been a good deal of talk about defense witnesses contradicting each other and themselves, and most of the local papers have exploited these alleged contradictions. Professor Dorsey, in summing up the result of Saturday's struggle, said the chief point made was when Dr. Merrill said the femur was the lower end. He admitted, however, that Drs. Allport and Merrill agreed that it was a hog's femur, but he said Dr. Allport asserted it to be the head of a femur, while Dr. Merrill said it was the lower end. It was Professor Dorsey's testimony that it was the upper end of a human femur when he was a witness. Dr. Allport emphatically denied, in an interview after court's ad-
was the head of a femur, and referred to the stenographic record, which substantiated his assertion.

Then he told the inside story of the identification of the bone. Before Professor Dorsey had testified concerning it it was shown to him along with other experts for the defense. They were in doubt as to the true character of the bone, but from the first he and Dr. Merrill were convinced it was not human.
William Charles was present, and as a butcher he said he thought it was a ham bone. The reason he gave for saying that was that there were so many ham bones about the factory yard that looked exactly like it. The next day he brought a collection of them to the experts. Dr.
Merrill then said it was the tibia or shin bone of a ham, and a long discussion between him and Dr. Allport followed. The point on which they were grounded was in considering Professor Dorsey's testimony that it was the head of a femur.

Finally Dr. Allport scratched off some dirt and found the nutrient canal, and that settled the point that it was the lower end of a ham bone, and Dr. Merrill at that time agreed with him, and the discussion of its identity was at an
end. It was during this discussion that Professor Dorsey learned the bone was a leg and not a right one, and admitted on the stand that Dr. Allport corrected him.

by the state as there is no Mrs. Luetger's body was destroyed, and couldn't get a result that the state had proved.

Professor Long and he demonstrated—unless the state has "something up its sleeve"—that it was absolutely impossible to dispose of a human body as the state said Luetger had and obtain residuum similar to that of the state.
One of the most important points established as it would seem by the defense,
and which strongly contradicts the claim that the state's bones are Mrs. Luetger's —whether they're human or not—according to the state's own theory is that the bones of a body actually dissolved in caustic potash have the articulations entirely destroyed and only the shaft remaining; while those the state presents have the articulating portions. The defense has also made soap as Luetger said he did and obtained the same resi-duum as the state presents as part of Mrs. Luetger's corpus delicti.

CLOSE OF THE BASE BALL SEASON.

Boston Files the Pennant with a Lead of Fifteen Points in Percentage.

Chicago, Oct. 4.—After an exceedingly close contest for the latter end of the season Boston carried away the pennant
of the National Base Ball League with a lead of fifteen points over the champions of 1896, and the base ball season is closed. For weeks previous to the end it was evident that the pennant would go either to Boston or Baltimore and the latter seemed to have the best chance of winning up to two weeks ago. It took the last week to decide which would win, however, and that was done when Baltimore lost a game to Washington.
The closing schedule is given below:

	Played.	Won.	Lost	P. C.
Boston	132	93	39	.707
Baltimore	130	90	40	.692
New York	131	83	48	.634
Cincinnati	132	76	56	.578
Cleveland	131	69	62	.527
Brooklyn	132	61	71	.462
Washington	132	61	71	.462
Pittsburgh	131	60	71	.458
Chicago	132	59	73	.447
Philadelphia	132	55	77	.417
Louisville	130	52	78	.400
St. Louis	131	29	102	.221

Following are the final League scores: At Pittsburgh—Cleveland 4, Pittsburgh 7; at Louisville—Cincinnati 9, Louisville 8; at St. Louis—Chicago 8, St. Louis 2; at New York—Philadelphia 18, New York 5; at Baltimore—Washington 6, Baltimore 3; at Brooklyn—Boston 6, Brooklyn 15. This is the last game for a Brooklyn club, as when next season opens Brooklyn will be part of New York.
(Sunday) At Louisville—Cincinnati 9, Louisville 7; at St. Louis—Chicago 9, St. Louis 10; (second game) Chicago 7,
St. Louis 1.

At Indianapolis the home team beat Columbus in the Free Press cup series for the Western League by a score of 13 to 2.

Columbus, O., Oct. 4.—Columbus won

POISONED BY THEIR MOTHER.

Four Out of Seven Children and the Mother Die by Strychnine.

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 4.—A special to The Bee from Schuyler, Neb., says: During yesterday afternoon Frank Steinad came hastily in from Shell Creek precinct, nine miles northwest, to summon a physician to the home of Frank Divis, where he said the whole family had been poisoned. Dr. Sixta hastened out and found four of the seven children in the family and their mother dead, a fifth child in a dying condition, and a sixth victim sick. Divis and his oldest son went away early in the morning, leaving before the rest of the family breakfasted. When the meal was prepared all sat down and early in the course of the meal Mrs. Divis made some such remark as: "Eat a good breakfast, and we'll all go together."

An older son's mind was affected by the remark to the extent that he did not appease his appetite. A daughter, younger than the son, after drinking
about half a cup of coffee became sick and vomited. The rest of the family
the children made wry faces and said the coffee did not taste good. Strychnine had been put in the coffee, which soon showed its effects, when those not prostrated spread the alarm, but not soon enough to avoid the fatal effects noted.

YELLOW JACK IS PROGRESSING.

New Cases and Deaths, However, Do Not Amount to a Scourge.

New Orleans, Oct. 4.—The state board of health officials say: During the twenty-four hours ended at 9 p. m. Sunday, Oct. 3, there were—cases of yellow fever, 31; deaths, 2; total cases to date, 317; total deaths, 36; total cases absolutely recovered, 93; total cases under treatment, 188.

Following is the report from other cities: Mobile—Four new cases, no deaths. Edwards—Fourteen new cases, two deaths; there have been but twelve deaths in a total of 317 cases here.
Scranton—Many new cases, two deaths.
Biloxi—New cases, 22, deaths, 2.

Lewes, Del., Oct. 4.—The Norwegian steamer John Wilson, ten days from Bocas del Toro, Colombia, arrived at Delaware Breakwater quarantine at noon yesterday with her flag at half mast. When the quarantine physician boarded her he found the body of Chief Engineer Charles Peterson, aged 37 years, of Bergen, Norway, who died on the passage Friday last of yellow fever.

The Freedom Allowed Clergymen Early in the Present Century.

COL. SOBIESKI TELLS ABOUT IT.

He Pays Gen. Neal Dow a Fine Tribute—The Greatest American of His Day.

Col. John Sobieski, the famous temperance advocate, declared last night in a lecture at the Methodist church that Gen. Neal Dow was the greatest American of his day. The colonel had an acquaintance with the general and the death of the latter Saturday was occasion for Col. Sobieski to recall some of the incidents in the life of the great man from Maine.

"Thomas Jefferson was president of the United States when General Dow was born," said Mr. Sobieski, "and at the time of his birth, 1801, New England was engaged in the shipment of rum to Africa. The beverage was used to intoxicate the natives in which condition they were taken aboard vessels, brought to the United States and sold as slaves. When General Dow was 35 years old an incident occurred which changed his entire life. A woman whose husband was an habitual drunkard came to the general and requested that he visit a certain saloonist and advise him against selling her husband liquor. The liquor merchant received the imprecations with the retort that his business was licensed and he would sell to whom he pleased.

"From that day General Dow was a temperance reformer. He entered the work with determination and in 1851 the prohibitory law was enacted in Maine, as the result of the general's efforts. Four months after the general became mayor of Portland every saloon was closed. This reform was attended by blood shed, but it was a victory worth the sacrifice of life. For 18 months the general remained a Confederate prisoner, and was exchanged for Governor Lee. His army experiences is a record of brilliant achievements. I was a member of the convention that nominated him for president in 1890, and in his life of 90 years we have the exemplification of the pure and most exalted type of American manhood."

Returning to the subject of temperance the colonel declared that the world was getting better. As evidence of this fact the speaker referred to the darkness that shrouded civilization at the beginning of this century. In 1804 the members of a temperance organization at Boston pledged themselves to refrain from the use of intoxicants except on the Fourth of July and Christmas. In 1812 a minister of the gospel could be a liquor dealer, and the speaker knew of an ordination service early in the century at which 12 clergymen were drunk. In 1818 a Connecticut pastor warned the members of his congregation against drinking to such an extent that they would be unable to recognize their friends. There was no harm in drinking so long as the drinker remained rational.

Today there was total abstinence in all the churches and in three-fourths of the territory of the United States the liquor traffic was prohibited. The colonel contended that the people had no right to legalize the liquor traffic; there was no law that permitted them to barter away public virtue, and the government in licensing the liquor business was guilty of treason. In ten years, the speaker predicted, there would not be a saloon in existence. The land would be redeemed and regenerated from the murderous traffic. The advancement toward complete eradication of the business was rapid. The churches were purified of it; fraternal societies had taken up the cause and prohibited saloonists from becoming their members, and when the sentiment became so crystallized that Christian conscience impelled the selection of a proper government at Washington the last vestige of the terrible vice would be obliterated.

AN ILLUSTRATED SERMON.

Interesting Evening Service at the Presbyterian Church.

For some weeks past Rev. Elisha A. Hoffman has preached an illustrated sermon to his growing congregation at the First Presbyterian church on Sunday evenings. Last night his subject was the temptation of Christ and back of the pulpit was a large colored picture of Satan showing Christ the kingdoms of the world from a high and rugged mountain top.

The sermon threw new light on the temptation. It would not have been temptation, said the preacher, had it not been possible for Christ to yield. If he had no desire to yield there could have been no temptation. There was a victory, and a victory cannot be gained without a struggle. As Christ was tempted and tried so the devil will tempt and try every Christian.

A pleasing feature of the service was the solo singing of Captain Grosclaude of the Salvation army. She forgot the lines of one of her songs and broke down. "I have seen the time when I would go home and cry after breaking down," said the captain, "but that would be yielding to a temptation. I will just sing for you something I can remember," she said and she smiled and sang.

At the Congregational

Dr. Hitchcock, secretary of the American board, filled the Congregational pulpit and spoke in the interest of that society. He is a very pleasant speaker and explained in a few words the work of the board and the extension that would be made as soon as funds were provided. At the close of the sermon the annual collection for foreign missionary work was taken.

BALLOON ASCENSION AT NILES.

Prof. Casad Navigates the Air Successfully.

Prof. Casad made a very successful balloon ascension at Niles Saturday. He went up 1,000 feet and descended in a parachute, alighting on the Michigan Central railway tracks a half mile from the starting point. When in mid air the professor dropped a large quantity of advertising matter for local merchants.

Prof. Casad would like to make an ascension in Benton Harbor and this week will make an effort to interest the merchants in the proposition. Such an attraction would bring a large crowd here who would not be disappointed, as the professor is a success at aerial navigation.

A GOOD EXHIBITION.

Was the Veriscope Reproduction of the Pugilistic Battle.

The veriscope views of the Corbett-Fitzsimmons contest at Carson City, produced at Conkey's opera house Saturday night were witnessed by a crowded house as a result of the exclusive use of THE NEWS in advertising the exhibition.

The entertainment was highly satisfactory and was attended by a large number of ladies. Every round of the great battle was accurately produced. The final blow which sent Corbett to his knees and the movement of the referee's arm as he counted off the seconds while the vanquished pugilist was struggling to regain his feet, were wonderfully realistic.

The majority of the audience was in sympathy with Corbett. This was easily detected by the exclamations and murmurs of approval when Corbett landed on the Australian with effect.

A PLACE FOR BREWER.

Pontiac Man May Be Made Governor of Hawaii.

In case Hawaii is annexed to the United States Senator Burrows has selected Mark S. Brewer as the proper man to be made governor of the island and it is said that the president is favorable to the idea.

Among others whose claims have been warmly urged by the senator are Prof. Hamilton King, of Olivet. The Siamese mission, one of the most important in the far east, was mentioned as one for which Prof. King was well fitted. This nomination would be regarded as very appropriate in view of the fact that the last administration commissioned a Michigan man as minister resident to Korea. A number of other Michigan gentlemen were discussed, and sundry posts not yet filled were mentioned, including those at Buenos Ayres and La Guayra, Venezuela.

THE DOWAGIAC FAIR.

The Annual Exhibition is Dead of Old Age.

Dowagiac News: The Dowagiac Union Fair of 1897 is past, and goes down on the records as a failure. Not because of any bad management, for the present directors and managers are men who will and did neglect their personal business to push the fair as far toward the front as possible, but because the once vigorous Union Fair, had run its life out. Fairs, like men have their youth, growth, and decay, and just at this time, ours was bald-headed and had gray whiskers all over it.

It is easy to mistakenly consider a fair in the light of a piece of personal property belonging to the officers, and run for their special benefit, and when it comes to the point that the people are tired of its monotonous sameness, and turn their backs upon it, to blame the directors, but the logic of the matter seems to point to the fact that our old superannuated Union Fair has been, practically, a corpse for several years.

Those who have had the most experience with it considered it the same as dead when it began to hedge about the payment of premiums. But what could be done? If the income from the fair couldn't pay the premiums where should it come from? If there has been a mistake made, it was to attempt to blow life into a corpse.

The down-town, free, street fair, such as will be held in Kalamazoo October 12, 13, and 14, is the coming attraction. It is the thing for Dowagiac to contemplate for next season.

An Honest Tramp.

Dowagiac Daily News: About a year ago a tramp called at the home of Mrs. Robert Watson, on East High street, and applied to that lady's sympathy for a "bite to eat." Mrs. Watson had been entertaining company that day, and one of her husband's best Plymouth Rocks had been sacrificed to adorn the festive board. The "knight of the road" was invited to partake of a portion of the poultry, together with a sumptuous array of side-dishes. Having finished his supper, the tramp thanked the good housewife and took his departure. There was not a more surprised woman on earth yesterday than Mrs. Watson when this same man called at her home and insisted upon paying for that meal. Since his visit here of a year ago, he had obtained employment, and now intended to "square up."

BONES YET THE THEME

Osteologist Is the Big Man in the Celebrated Chicago Wife- Murder Case.

Alleged Temporal Bone a Piece of Osseous Slag. So to Speak—Fight to Go on This Week—Comment on the Evidence So Far Given.

sixth week of the celebrated trial of Adolph L. Luetger for the alleged murder
of his wife showed the case far
from completed. Luetger's story has
may be on the witness stand a week.
It will take him over one court day to
tell his story under the lead of his
amination. Luetger will be carried through the history of his life. Luet-
ger has all along expressed an intense
desire to talk. He has repeatedly declared that he wanted to tell his story
to the jury. Saturday was a field day for the defense and if weight of evidence is number of witnesses the state

Three other osteologists entered the
arena, and they fixed the identity of
the femur, the alleged rib and the sup-
else than human. The only thing left
as something else than the remnant of
a human being was the sesamoid. None
of them, however, said the sesamoid bone was human. They left its ancestry in a shadow of doubt from which it may be
sesamoid from the hind foot of a hog as
it is to conclude it is a bone that grew
whereabouts, living or dead, is an unsettled question.

Two of the experts were veterinarians
—Dr. L. A. Merrill and Dr. J. Hughes,
the third was Dr. W. T. Eckley, professor of anatomy, connected with the Northwestern university. The most important part of the osteological combat
was where Dr. L. A. Merrill recognized
the alleged rib. That queer looking
from a human was trailed to its lair by Dr. Merrill and there it was found in
first ox. This piece of bone he named
the navicular bone. Dr. Hughes agreed
exactly with Dr. Merrill, and Dr. Eckley declared that he could not possibly
animal, adding that "it would require
the most extravagant speculation to do
out.

Possibly the fight has raged around
the identity of the alleged temporal
bone as hotly as any other state exhibit. All the experts for the defense
have declared that it lacked charac-
nothing, but simply a lot of bones fused
together. This is why Dr. Merrill rejects it as human: "The chief reason
for arriving at this conclusion is that
specimen a compact tissue between two
any animal—a layer of compact tissue
lying between two layers of cancellated tissue—no such an example, consequently it is not a true organization. In order to identify this as a temporal bone,
I should want to see some familiar structures." None of such structures, he said, were present.

SOME TALK OF CONTRADICTIONS.

Dr. Allport Spills a State Contention—
Features of the Trial.

There has been a good deal of talk
about defense witnesses contradicting
each other and themselves, and most of
the local papers have exploited these alleged contradictions. Professor Dorsey,
in summing up the result of Saturday's struggle, said the chief point made was when Dr. Merrill said the femur was
the lower end. He admitted, however, that Drs. Allport and Merrill agreed that this was a hog's femur, but he said Dr. Allport asserted it to be the head of a femur, while Dr. Merrill said it was
the lower end. It was Professor Dorsey's testimony that it was the upper end of a human femur when he was a witness. Dr. Allport emphatically denied, in an interview after court's ad-
stantiated his assertion.

Then he told the inside story of the identification of the bone. Before Professor Dorsey had testified concerning
it it was shown to him along with other
doubt as to the true character of the
bone, but from the first he and Dr. Merrill were convinced it was not human.
William Charles was present, and as a
butcher he said he thought it was a ham
bone. The reason he gave for saying
bones about the factory yard that looked
exactly like it. The next day he brought
a collection of them to the experts. Dr.
Merrill then said it was the tibia or
shin bone of a ham, and a long discussion between him and Dr. Allport followed. The point on which they were grounded was in considering Professor Dorsey's testimony that it was the head of a femur.

Finally Dr. Allport scratched off some dirt and found the nutrient canal, and
that settled the point that it was the lower end of a ham bone, and Dr. Merrill at that time agreed with him, and
end. It was during this discussion that
a left and not a right one, and admitted
him on that point.

by the state as those in which Mrs.
Luetger's body was destroyed, and couldn't get a result that the state had proved.

Professor Long and he demonstrated—
unless the state has "something up its sleeve"—that it was absolutely impossible to dispose of a human body as the state said Luetger had and obtain
residuum similar to that of the state.
One of the most important points established as it would seem by the defense,
and which strongly contradicts the claim
that the state's bones are Mrs. Luetger's
—whether they're human or not—accord-
bones of a body actually dissolved in
caustic potash have the articulations entirely destroyed and only the shaft re-
have the articulating portions. The defense has also made soap as Luetger
duum as the state presents as part of
Mrs. Luetger's corpus delicti.

Boston Files the Pennant with a Lead of Fifteen Points in Percentage.

Chicago, Oct. 4.—After an exceedingly
close contest for the latter end of the season Boston carried away the pennant
of the National Base Ball League with
a lead of fifteen points over the champions of 1896, and the base ball season
is closed. For weeks previous to the end
it was evident that the pennant would go
either to Boston or Baltimore and the
Baltimore lost a game to Washington.
The closing schedule is given below:

	Played.	Won.	Lost.	P. C.
Boston	132	93	39	.707
Baltimore	130	90	40	.692
New York	131	83	48	.634

Cleveland	131	69	62	.527
Brooklyn	132	61	71	.462

Four Out of Seven Children and the Mother Die by Strychnine.

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 4.—A special to The Bee from Schuyler, Neb., says: During yesterday afternoon Frank Steind came hastily in from Shell Creek precinct,
nine miles northwest, to summon a physician to the home of Frank Divis,
where he said the whole family had been
found four of the seven children in the family and their mother dead, a fifth
went away early in the morning, leaving before the rest of the family breakfasted. When the meal was prepared all sat down and early in the course of the meal Mrs. Divis made some such remark as: "Eat a good breakfast, and
we'll all go together."

An older son's mind was affected by
the remark to the extent that he did not appease his appetite. A daughter,
younger than the son, after drinking
about half a cup of coffee became sick
the children made wry faces and said
the coffee did not taste good. Strychnine
had been put in the coffee, which soon
showed its effects, when those not prostrated spread the alarm, but not soon
enough to avoid the fatal effects noted.

COL. SOBIESKI TELLS ABOUT IT.

Col. John Sobieski, the famous temperance advocate, declared last night in a lecture at the Methodist church that Gen. Neal Dow was the greatest American of his day. The colonel had an acquaintance with the general and the death of the latter Saturday was occasion for Col. Sobieski to recall some of the incidents in the life of the great man from Maine.

"Thomas Jefferson was president of the United States when General Dow was born," said Mr. Sobieski, "and at the time of his birth, 1801, New England was engaged in the shipment of rum to Africa. The beverage was used to intoxicate the natives in which condition they were taken aboard vessels, brought to the United States and sold as slaves. When General Dow was 35 years old an incident occurred which changed his entire life. A woman whose husband was an habitual drunkard came to the general and requested that he visit a certain saloonist and advise him against selling her husband liquor. The liquor merchant received the imprecations with the retort that his business was licensed and he would sell to whom he pleased.

"From that day General Dow was a temperance reformer. He entered the work with determination and in 1851 the prohibitory law was enacted in Maine, as the result of the general's efforts. Four months after the general became mayor of Portland every saloon was closed. This reform was attended by blood shed, but it was a victory worth the sacrifice of life. For 18 months the general remained a Confederate prisoner, and was exchanged for Governor Lee. His army experiences is a record of brilliant achievements. I was a member of the convention that nominated him for president in 1860, and in his life of 90 years we have the exemplification of the purest and most exalted type of American manhood."

Returning to the subject of temperance the colonel declared that the world was getting better. As evidence of this fact the speaker referred to the darkness that shrouded civilization at the beginning of this century. In 1804 the members of a temperance organization at Boston pledged themselves to refrain from the use of intoxicants except on the Fourth of July and Christmas. In 1812 a minister of the gospel could be a liquor dealer, and the speaker knew of an ordination service early in the century at which 12 clergymen were drunk. In 1818 a Connecticut pastor warned the members of his congregation against drinking to such an extent that they would be unable to recognize their friends. There was no harm in drinking so long as the drinker remained rational.

Today there was total abstinence in all the churches and in three-fourths of the territory of the United States the liquor traffic was prohibited. The colonel contended that the people had no right to legalize the liquor traffic; there was no law that permitted them to barter away public virtue, and the government in licensing the liquor business was guilty of treason. In ten years, the speaker predicted, there would not be a saloon in existence. The land would be redeemed and regenerated from the murderous traffic. The advancement toward complete elimination of the business was rapid. The churches were purified of it; fraternal societies had taken up the cause and prohibited saloonists from becoming their members, and when the sentiment became so crystallized that Christian conscience impelled the selection of a proper government at Washington the last vestige of the terrible vice would be obliterated.

AN ILLUSTRATED SERMON.

Interesting Evening Service at the Presbyterian Church.

For some weeks past Rev. Elisha A. Hoffman has preached an illustrated sermon to his growing congregation at the First Presbyterian church on Sunday evenings. Last night his subject was the temptation of Christ and back of the pulpit was a large colored picture of Satan showing Christ the

The sermon threw new light on the temptation. It would not have been temptation, said the preacher, had it not been possible for Christ to yield. If he had no desire to yield there could have been no temptation. There was a victory, and a victory cannot be gained without a struggle. As Christ was tempted and tried so the devil will tempt and try every Christian.

A pleasing feature of the service was the solo singing of Captain Grosclaude of the Salvation army. She forgot the lines of one of her songs and broke down. "I have seen the time when I would go home and cry after breaking down," said the captain, "but that would be yielding to a temptation. I will just sing for you something I can remember," she said and she smiled and sang.

Dr. Hitchcock, secretary of the American board, filled the Congregational pulpit and spoke in the interest of that society. He is a very pleasant speaker and explained in a few words the work of the board and the extension that would be made as soon as funds were provided. At the close of the sermon the annual collection for foreign missionary work was taken.

BALLOON ASCENSION AT NILES.

Prof. Casad Navigates the Air Successfully.

Prof. Casad made a very successful balloon ascension at Niles Saturday. He went up 1,000 feet and descended in a parachute, alighting on the Michigan Central railway tracks a half mile from the starting point. When in mid air the professor dropped a large quantity of advertising matter for local merchants.

Prof. Casad would like to make an ascension in Benton Harbor and this week will make an effort to interest the merchants in the proposition. Such an attraction would bring a large crowd here who would not be disappointed, as the professor is a success at aerial navigation.

A GOOD EXHIBITION.

The veriscope views of the Corbett-Fitzsimmons contest at Carson City, produced at Conkey's opera house Saturday night were witnessed by a crowded house as a result of the exclusive use of THE NEWS in advertising the exhibition.

The entertainment was highly satisfactory and was attended by a large number of ladies. Every round of the great battle was accurately produced. The final blow which sent Corbett to his knees and the movement of the referee's arm as he counted off the seconds while the vanquished pugilist was struggling to regain his feet, were wonderfully realistic.

The majority of the audience was in sympathy with Corbett. This was easily detected by the exclamations and murmurs of approval when Corbett landed on the Australian with effect.

A PLACE FOR BREWER.

Pontiac Man May Be Made Governor of Hawaii.

In case Hawaii is annexed to the United States Senator Burrows has selected Mark S. Brewer as the proper man to be made governor of the island and it is said that the president is favorable to the idea.

Among others whose claims have been warmly urged by the senator are Prof. Hamilton King, of Olivet. The Siamese mission, one of the most important in the far east, was mentioned as one for which Prof. King was well fitted. This nomination would be regarded as very appropriate in view of the fact that the last administration commissioned a Michigan man as minister resident to Korea. A number of other Michigan gentlemen were discussed, and sundry posts not yet filled were mentioned, including those at Buenos Ayres and La Guayra, Venezuela.

THE DOWAGIAC FAIR.

The Annual Exhibition is Dead of Old Age.

Dowagiac News: The Dowagiac Union Fair of 1897 is past, and goes down on the records as a failure. Not because of any bad management, for the present directors and managers are men who will and did neglect their personal business to push the fair as far toward the front as possible, but because the once vigorous Union Fair, had run its life out. Fairs, like men have their youth, growth, and decay, and just at this time, ours was bald-headed and had gray whiskers all over it.

It is easy to mistakenly consider a fair in the light of a piece of personal property belonging to the officers, and run for their special benefit, and when it comes to the point that the people are tired of its monotonous sameness, and turn their backs upon it, to blame the directors, but the logic of the matter seems to point to the fact that our old superannuated Union Fair has been, practically, a corpse for several years.

Those who have had the most experience with it considered it the same as dead when it began to hedge about the payment of premiums. But what could be done? If the income from the fair couldn't pay the premiums where should it come from? If there has been a mistake made, it was to attempt to blow life into a corpse.

The down-town, free, street fair, such as will be held in Kalamazoo October 12, 13, and 14, is the coming attraction. It is the thing for Dowagiac to contemplate for next season.

An Honest Tramp.

Dowagiac Daily News: About a year ago a tramp called at the home of Mrs. Robert Watson, on East High street, and applied to that lady's sympathy for a "bite to eat." Mrs. Watson had been entertaining company that day, and one of her husband's best Plymouth Rocks had been sacrificed to adorn the festive board. The "knight of the road" was invited to partake of a portion of the poultry, together with a sumptuous array of side-dishes. Having finished his supper, the tramp thanked the good housewife and took his departure. There was not a more surprised woman on earth yesterday than Mrs. Watson when this same man called at her home and insisted upon paying for that meal. Since his visit here of a year ago, he had obtained employment and now intended to "square up."

A POLITICAL BLUNDER.

In the appointment of a non-resident as postmaster at St. Joseph Congressman Hamilton has done a very rash and foolish act.

It was known some time ago that Hamilton had promised Fred A. Woodruff the St. Joseph postmastership. Mr. Woodruff is a good fellow and is competent but he is not a resident of St. Joseph in a just or moral sense. In a legal sense he is. He moved to St. Joseph when he was elected county clerk. He succeeded in working himself in as chairman of the republican county committee last year. Last fall at election time it was generally understood that as soon as his office as county clerk expired he would move to Benton Harbor. Soon after this the postoffice bee got into his bonnet and he decided to remain in St. Joseph—provided he could get the postoffice. Had he failed in getting the appointment he would have shaken the dust of St. Joseph from his feet.

The appointment is nothing more or less than an insult to the republicans of St. Joseph. Wars have been created on less provocation. One of the charges against King George in the Declaration of Independence was that he had "sent hither a swarm of officers to harass our people and eat out their substance." The new postmaster will mentally harass the republicans of St. Joseph and "eat out their substance." The substance that belongs to St. Joseph republicans and not to some foreign self-seeking politician.

Mr. Hamilton has made poor choice in his selection of postmasters. In Benton Harbor he was in a tremendous hurry and treated indecently the gold democrat whose votes elected him. Now he waited until now it is doubtful whether Mr. Huntington would be appointed. The principal backer of Huntington, on account of financial or other reasons, was the First bank. Hamilton's appointment as postmaster has largely disintegrated and disappeared.

If Hamilton is forced upon the people of this county for another term it is quite likely that the democratic county ticket will be elected next fall. Referees do well enough for democrats but republicans will not tolerate them.

GENERAL Neal Dow, who died Saturday, was one of the few politicians of his age who had a righteous purpose and a clear conscience. He made the unpopular doctrine of prohibition popular in his own state and was the greatest temperance reformer the world has ever known. He died at the age of 96 and by his own experience he taught that temperance brings a happy old age. The world was made better by his having lived.

WHEN General Neal Dow was a young man he was chief of the Portland fire department and in that capacity he won distinction. He saw the effects of water in subduing flames and in after years with the same weapon, water, he drove the grog shops out of Maine.

THE local republican organ endorses the Woodruff appointment at St. Joseph. Of course. Had Hamilton appointed Billy Connolly that paper would have jumped up and "congratulated the republicans of St. Joseph."

If Congressman Hamilton had been wise the Watervliet man would have been given "something equally as good." For instance he might have been given a fat job as one of the experts on the Luetgert trial.

WHEN Mr. Woodruff chipped in to raise that $500 jackpot for Congressman Hamilton's organ he knew where he was at.

COLOMA Courier: There is not a day going by but what there is a big kick by our citizens because the C. & W. M. railroad company does not give this city the benefit of the fast train service. It is an injustice to the town and to the people to be slighted in this respect, and the railroad company should recognize the fact that on account of the enormous amount of freight business done here the people should be given the advantages to be derived by having the fast express stop here in the evening.

THE A. O. M. is the name of a new mystic circle lately organized in Benton Harbor. Its object is to insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense and secure perfect union. Little thought is given to the blessings of liberty, the members having feasted on these for many years, or to justice and posterity. The society is controlled by an executive board of four who are given supreme power and authority on all matters. The present members of the board have been chosen on account of their pre-eminent knowledge of the lore and customs of antiquity. The motto and war cry of the organization is "Grace, Grit and Glory."

Two Women and Five Children Burn to Death in a Manitoba Prairie Fire.

Giving Them No Chance to Escape the Dreadful Fate—Terrible Devastation Wrought by the Conflagration—Town Nearly Destroyed, Farm Property, Live Stock and Grain Swept Away—Railway Wreck in Colorado Costs Two Lives.

Winnipeg, Man., Oct. 4.—The prairie fire which raged all over the country Saturday, being fanned and driven by a gale of wind, died out during the night and yesterday morning's sun dawned upon a terrible scene of death and devastation. Farm houses, implements, crops and live stock were everywhere consumed, and many farmers lost their all. A most lamentable story comes from Beausejour, forty miles east of this city, where two women and five children named Morecki were burned to death. Fire came upon their house, which was in the woods, from two directions simultaneously, and shut off all means of escape. Only a few charred remains were found yesterday morning. There were many narrow escapes. Carcasses of horses, cattle and sheep are lying all over the district, and a number of families of foreigners are homeless and utterly destitute.

One Town Nearly Wiped Out.
At Bagot, seventy miles west, the Canadian Pacific railroad station and seven cars, the Dominion Grain company's elevator with 20,000 bushels of wheat, Lawrie's store, Higginbotham's, Link's and Buckman's stables, a cold storage warehouse and Farmer Waldron's farm buildings and crops were totally destroyed. The little town was practically wiped out of existence. At Stony Mountain fire ran up to the Canadian Pacific railroad platform where, by desperate efforts, its progress was stayed. Much hay and grain was consumed in this district. In the Lake Francis district northwest of the city there was also extensive destruction of crops. A young farmer named Markham was terribly burned while trying to save his property.

Farm Property, Live Stock and Game.
At Oakland, on the Portage branch of the Northern Pacific railroad, several hundred cords of wood and thousands of tons of hay were licked up. Just southwest of this city there is a large hay marsh, and fire was driven over this, consuming everything in its course. Nearly every farmer lost his hay and many also lost their grain and implements. There were large bands of horses and cattle pasturing on the marsh, and the charred carcasses of the animals dot the ground every few paces. Jack rabbits and prairie chickens were also destroyed. The people in this city were anxious for some hours, as it was feared that the fire would come into the suburbs where many valuable residences are located. A timely change of the wind averted this impending danger.

DISASTER TO AN EXCURSION TRAIN.
Derailment Causes Two Deaths and May Yet Cause a Third.

Pueblo, Colo., Oct. 4.—One person killed outright, one so badly injured that he died soon after the accident, and others seriously injured is the result of a wreck on the Denver and Rio Grande narrow gauge at Cotopaxi, seventy-two miles west of Pueblo, at 2 o'clock yesterday morning, caused by the breaking of a journal on one of the coaches. The train was the first section of No. 6 from over Marshall Pass, and was slowing down to take the siding at Cotopaxi. While running at ten miles an hour a journal on the rear trucks of the first day coach broke. The car pitched over on its side and dragged with it all the cars behind—another coach, two sleepers and the company's pay car. Three tourist coaches, the baggage car and engine, all ahead of the first coach, remained on the track. The cars were all crowded with excursionists bound to the festival of Mountain and Plain at Denver.

There was little excitement and not much wreckage, as the train was running very slowly. The railroad company furnishes the following list of casualties: The dead—Mrs. F. B. McIntyre, Silverton, Colo.; F. W. Seyler, Cincinnati, legs crushed, died on the way to the hospital. Seriously injured—Mrs. Robinson, of Deltr, head injured; Mrs. Mary Johnson, of Telluride, right shoulder injured; Frank E. Adams, of Telluride, cut about head; Miss Ada Crompton, of Delta, injured on head; Mrs. Saunders, of Salda, cut on hip and left shoulder. A dozen or more received more or less painful injuries, but were not seriously hurt. Mrs. McIntyre was in lower berth No. 4 in the forward sleeper and was found after the wreck lying dead on the ground opposite her berth window. She was badly crushed. Seyler was standing on the platform between the two coaches when the wreck occurred. He was badly crushed, but was conscious to the last. Of the injured the death of Mrs. Robinson, of Delta, only is feared.

Cleveland, Oct. 4.—In a freight collision on the Nickel Plate railroad at Willoughby, O., yesterday, Engineer Charles Brown, of Bellevue, was killed, and seven cars loaded with grain and stock were demolished.

THREE OF A FAMILY BURNED.

Mother Rushes into a Burning House and Two of Her Sons Follow Her.
Springfield, Mass., Oct. 4.—A special to The Union from East Long Meadow says: The home of George Brownlee caught fire from a chimney. Mrs. Brownlee, her husband and two sons—Thomas, aged 21, and James, aged 19—escaped in their night robes, but Mrs. Brownlee and her son Thomas were a few minutes later burned in the building. Mrs. Brownlee, losing her head, rushed back into the house, thinking her sons had not come out. Thomas rushed after her to save her, and James

Much-Hated General.

AND SAGASTA IS ON TOP IN SPAIN.

Queen Christina Gives Him the Job of Ruling the Country and Appears to Have Dismissed the Conservatives for Cruelty and Corruption—Sagasta Frankly Tells Uncle Sam to Mind His Own Business, However, So a Special Cable Alleges.

Madrid, Oct. 4.—The queen regent, having consulted with the leading men of the nation, summoned Sagasta to form a new cabinet and that gentleman accepted the duty, the following men being in line for the different portfolios: Premier, Sagasta; department of state, Gamazo; finance, Aminos Salvador; colonies, Montero Rios; justice, Maura or Phigover; war, General Correa; marine, Admiral Bermejo; interior, Moret.

Premier Sagasta Interviewed.
New York, Oct. 4.—A special to The World from Madrid says: The World correspondent called on Premier Sagasta, who said in response to queries: "You ask me if the Liberal party would assent to mediation by the United States with a view to hastening the pacification of Cuba and inducing the rebels in arms and the exiles to accept autonomy. Why should we need mediation when our intentions—long and often expressed by the Liberal party—aim at realizing all that American could suggest? No Spanish party—certainly not the Liberals—could assent to foreign interference in our domestic affairs or with our colonies. No government could hope to induce the nation to accept such interference. If America, as we firmly believe and hope, is disposed to be sincerely friendly with us, let her enforce the rules of international law and stop the flow of moral and material aid, without which the insurrection could not last six months."

New Policy for the Cubans.
"We shall reverse completely the policy of the last two years in Cuba, beginning, naturally, with the recall of Weyler. I informed the queen yesterday that the Liberal party would accept the responsibilities of office most willingly if her majesty honored the party with her confidence; that the Liberal party had plans for all the pending questions of the day in Spain, and certainly would grant to Cuba autonomy along the lines traced in the programme of the Cuban autonomists themselves. I said so in my manifesto in June and have repeated the same promise during the government holidays. The Liberal party is prepared to grant to Cuba all possible self-government, a broad tariff and every concession compatible with inflexible defense of Spanish rule and sovereignty in the West Indies. We believe this will satisfy the majority of the Cubans and we will act thus spontaneously."

Will Be No Use, Senior Sagasta.
But all this will be of no use if the Cubans in this city represent the case as it stands with the body of the Cuban people. To a reporter yesterday T. Estrada Palma, representative of the Cuban provisional government, said: "To the Cuban patriots it makes little difference whether a Liberal or Conservative ministry directs affairs in Spain. A change in government in Spain does not alter the case of the Cubans. They are now more firmly determined than ever to push the fight until the absolute independence of Cuba is acknowledged. I believe the Cubans are willing to pay a reasonable indemnity to Spain provided she withdraw her troops from Cuba before the island is completely ruined." All the other Cubans seen echoed Palma's views.

QUEEN REGENT IS FOR REFORM.

Said to Have Bounced the Conservatives for Cruelty and Corruption.

London, Oct. 4.—The Madrid correspondent of The Standard says: "The queen regent took a strong initiative during the crisis, and profoundly surprised General Azarraga by leaving him no alternative but resignation. She frankly expressed her disapproval of the Conservative administration, especially in its treatment of the anarchist prisoners at Portress Montjuic. She said she had allowed Senor Canovas to remain in office in the hope that he would modify the rigor of his repressive policy in Cuba and that she had repeatedly called the attention of ministers to administrative scandals and abuses. Moreover, her majesty said she waited patiently for two months after the death of Canovas in the hope that the new government would correct these evils."

"On its failure to do so she took it upon herself to consult General Canovas, Senor Silveira and others as to the best means of pacifying Cuba by an endeavor to satisfy the autonomists and thus virtually to steal a march on American diplomacy. All the statesmen whom she consulted appear to have advised a Liberal cabinet as the best means of attaining the queen's wishes. Thereupon her majesty thanked General Azarraga for his splendid services as minister of war and intimated her intention to appoint Senor Sagasta as president of the council."

"Senor Sagasta met with a hearty response on the part of all Liberal statesmen and all the Spanish stocks and securities have steadily risen on the strength of this settlement of the crisis."

The Daily News says, editorially this morning: "If General Woodford has not presented an ultimatum at Madrid it seems clear that he has made representations carrying tolerably similar effects and practically resulting in the downfall of the cabinet. The change of ministry seems to tend toward an accommodation with America's known demands."

Latest from Central America.

City of Mexico, Oct. 4.—A gentleman from Guatemala says decent people throughout Central America are tired of the rule of military robbers who have for many years plundered the public. "There is a growing feeling in Central America, such as has long existed in Guatemala, for annexation to the United States."

TO THE PUBLIC.

Because of considerable business in and from Grand Rapids, Indianapolis and Chicago, and the facility with which these places can be reached from the "Twin Cities" I have concluded to locate in Benton Harbor.

As a stranger soliciting a share of your patronage it is but just to you and to myself that I make some mention of my fitness for the work I would undertake. I was bred in and to the healing art, my father, brother and many relatives being physicians. I have attended and hold credentials from leading homoeopathic and allopathic medical colleges. For eighteen years I have successfully conducted a large practice. I have held high office in State and National medical societies, and received honorary professional recognition from abroad. I have had considerable hospital experience, am something of a medical writer and author, and have been professor in reputable medical colleges.

These frank statements can be easily verified. If they commend me to your confidence it will give me pleasure to professionally advise and assist healthward all who need and desire my services.

I am prepared to and will practice all branches of medicine and surgery, but because of special research, experience and success in this direction, greatly prefer and particularly invite those suffering from obscure, complicated, delicate, and all chronic or lingering diseases to consult me. Obsolete cases that others have failed to cure are solicited.

My office is at 112 East Main street, one door east of the postoffice.

Respectfully,
C. EDSON COVEY, M. D.

Peter English and J. C. Holmes Refuse a Gas Franchise.

SOUTH BEND, Oct. 4.—J. C. Holmes of Buchanan and Peter English of Benton Harbor have refused to take the gas franchise recently passed by the council. Mr. English is thoroughly discouraged and will make no further attempt to get a franchise from the council.

The franchise that was granted him he could not accept as it contained provisions which the council put in without his knowledge or sanction and it made an entirely different ordinance from the one presented by him. One of these provisions was that the plant should revert to the city if at any time Mr. English failed to live up to the terms of the contract. Mr. Holmes says that under such arbitrary conditions it was impossible to get capitalists who had promised to help the enterprise to take any stock in it whatever.

As They are Seen by I. M. Weston of Grand Rapids.

I. M. Weston, former owner and editor of the Grand Rapids Democrat, has given the Chicago Times-Herald his idea of Benton Harbor and St.
Joseph. He says:

The dual cities of St. Joseph and Benton Harbor, at the mouth of St.

Joseph river, make up one of the most prosperous and progressive burgs on the east shore. It is growing rapidly and constantly. It has grown right along during the past four years of commercial depression. It has 15,000 inhabitants, the biggest lake commerce of any east shore port, and is excelled on the lake only by Chicago and Milwaukee.

"Her fine harbor first drew the attention of the early French explorers to St. Joseph. Twenty or thirty years ago many men who had built and sailed vessels for years tried to make steamers pay between St. Joseph and Chicago, but failed. A few years ago a popular and prosperous young lumberman of St. Joseph made a new venture and nautical circles were deeply agitated when they learned that Jim Graham had bought a steamer and would run her between St. Joseph and Chicago. "Why," he never built a boat, never run a boat. His lumber earnings will fade like dew before the sun," was the talk of the tars. Yet the new steamer paid from the start. The young lumberman bought more boats and they all paid and today the flag of Commodore Graham floats from the mastsheads of some of the largest and finest iron steamships that make the port of Chicago. The Graham & Morton transportation company's fleet bring more passengers and freight to Chicago than any other line on Lake Michigan. President Graham has given the old timers some new and valuable ideas on lake transportation. He hates an empty steamboat as nature abhors a vacuum and he was the first to figure out that a thousand passengers at a dollar a head, who load and unload themselves, pay better on a steamer than fifty at $4 a head. His freight policy is the same. His four big boats always run full and always pay.

Spencer and the Rooster.

Herbert Spencer is peculiarly sensitive to discordant noises, or those which he regards as such. A sound which is said to make Mr. Spencer forget that he is a philosopher is chauticleer's welcome to the dawn. When the roosters begin to crow, Mr. Spencer ceases to sleep, and there are whispers that the remarks he makes on such occasions thoroughly disprove his affiliation with the stoics. Some years ago, during a stay in Scotland, he was fairly maddened by the performance of a cock that crowed inconceivably early. After a period of prolonged suffering it occurred to him that if the bird were tied to its perch it would be unable to rise for the act of crowing. So, by a fine effort of induction, Mr. Spencer went to the henhouse soon after midnight and with his pocket handkerchief tied his enemy firmly to its perch. Then he went back to bed, and, though history does not record whether the expedient silenced the rooster or not, Mr. Spencer was so confident that it would that he slept calmly until long after the dreaded hour of his usual awakening.—New York Times.

Suits made to order for $15 and upwards and pants from $3.50 upwards at Joe Hansen's tailor.

One of the reasons for the failure of the use of electricity in harnessing a balky or lazy horse. A western Pennsylvania gentleman owned a horse which he said was worth $1,000, provided he could cure him of balking. It was suggested that he try electricity.
He purchased a three volt storage battery and connected it by wires with the bit and the crupper. The battery was placed in the road cart to which the horse was attached. At first the horse refused to move, but stood with all four feet braced. Then the owner touched the button connected with the battery.
When the horse felt the shock, he moved, jumped and began to move off at a lively pace. Every day for a week he was given the same lesson. His owner, who does not care to sell him, declares that now he never balks, bites or kicks.
The West Pennsylvania Humane society, which investigated the method, came to the conclusion that a small amount of electricity used upon a horse was more humane than a whip.—Exchange.

England's Shortest Railway.

The shortest railway line in Great Britain is the Brighton Dyke Steep Grade railway, which was opened recently, adding a new feature to the attractions of Devil's Dyke. The Dyke, which is a favorite resort of the Brightonians, is a great but remarkably regular chasm on the South downs, situated about six miles to the northwest of Brighton. The view from the tableland, nearly 700 feet above the sea level, which surrounds it is one of the finest panoramic views obtainable in the country. The new line, which descends direct from the top of the hill to a point about a quarter of a mile distant from the village of Poyning in the plain below, is only 840 feet in length.

ARE MIGHTY MAD.

St. Joseph Republicans on the Appointment of Their New Postmaster.

IT MEANS HAMILTON'S DEFEAT.

L. J. Merchant Had the Indorsements but Woodruff Hypnotized the Congressman.

In the history of politics in St. Joseph nothing has ever created so much bitterness as has the appointment of Fred A. Woodruff to the office of postmaster.

The ill feeling is not confined to the supporters of L. J. Merchant, Mr. Woodruff's opponent, but to the mass of the city's population and to the great majority of the patrons of the office outside of the city's boundaries. St. Joseph township, the residents of which all get their mail at St. Joseph is greatly wrought up. It is said that of the township's population only two signed Mr. Woodruff's petition, while L. J. Merchant had a score of names from there.

The opposition against Woodruff is not based upon probable incompetency or upon moral conditions, but alone upon the fact that his residence in the city has been so brief that he is not regarded as a resident.

Mr. Woodruff, it is contended, had never considered himself a citizen of St. Joseph until after he was slated for the postoffice. That he had no intention of locating there is shown by an article published in the Palladium about the time of his retirement from the county clerk's office, which stated that he would probably engage in business in Benton Harbor.

The leading business and professional men of St. Joseph denounce the appointment most determinedly. They contend that they are the victims of a gang of political heelers who are disposed to control local politics against the wishes of the majority and in the interest of their own selfish gain. The remonstrances do not come entirely from Merchant's friends, but from the people.

THE NEWS today interviewed no less than 50 representative men, all of whom denounced the appointment as an outrage—as an insult to the republican party in St. Joseph. The idea of importing a man to take the most valuable plum the city contained struck them as being an imposition which demanded prompt and effective retaliation.

"Woodruff's leaders have been traitors to us," declared a prominent republican to THE NEWS. "Without conferring with us they secretly lay the matter before Congressman Hamilton and took advantage of his weakness and shortsightedness to push the misrepresented claims of Woodruff forward. We were not consulted and with no means of presenting our side of the case we lay down expecting that Congressman Hamilton would deal fairly but we were disappointed."

Threats were made by all those seen by THE NEWS and the probability of Mr. Hamilton getting back another year is less roseate than before Mr. Woodruff's appointment. The war veterans are arrayed against him, not alone on account of his turning down L. J. Merchant, a member of the G. A. R. but from the standpoint of principle. The veterans hang together with uncomfortable tenacity, as many politicians before Mr. Hamilton's time have discovered, and the posts in the district will probably be united against him when he bobs up for another term.

Mr. Hamilton had been asked to submit the postoffice question to either a vote of the people or the patrons of the office. He refused to do either.

"Following out the new line of policy," said a prominent republican to THE NEWS. "A. Vincent, Mr. Woodruff's principal backer, with the endorsement of Editor Gilson, is expected to provide the next mayor of Benton Harbor from Chicago, and the next governor of Michigan will come from Hawaii."

The Politician Forced on St. Joseph as Postmaster.

In its issue of November 7, 1896, the Benton Harbor Palladium, organ of the Hamilton-Woodruff brand of republicans, said:

"County Clerk Fred A. Woodruff will take a well-earned vacation and in company with Ira A. Smith will ride to Florida on a tandem to spend a portion of the winter in the sunny south. He will probably engage in business in Benton Harbor upon his return."

This is the man with foreign interests who has been thrust upon the republicans of St. Joseph as their postmaster.

INDIANS' WINDFALL.

Chief Pokagon's Tribe Will Receive $1,000 Each From Chicago Possessions.

CHIEF INTERVIEWS W. S. COX.

And a Conference Will Be Held in Benton Harbor Next Wednesday.

The prospects of the Pottowatomie Indians receiving $1,000,000 for the 130 acres of Chicago real estate which it has been discovered they hold a title to are roseate. Simon Pokagon, chief of the band, arrived here yesterday morning from Chicago where he had an interview with William S. Cox, 202 East Huron street, who has possession of most of the property.

Mr. Cox is disposed to deal fairly with the Indians. He wants a title to his property which he can only procure of the Indians and he therefore is anxious to settle the claim as soon as possible. A conference between him and a committee of Indians selected to investigate the claim will be held here next Wednesday. The committee is composed of Chief Pokagon, William Pokagon, Samuel Weesaw and Isaac Quigno, all of Hartford, and Joseph H. Cushway, of Fern.

There are several parties who claim a title to the land by right of possession, but most of the property is held by Mr. Cox who is disposed to compensate the Indians and receive a title. If the property brings $1,000,000, as the Indians expect, each member of the band will receive $1,000. Mr. Cox has furnished Pokagon with the following letter, describing the land and conveying the surprising intelligence that the 130 acres is not one per cent of the land to which the Indians are entitled.

"To whom it may concern: Simon Pokagon called on me at my home, October 1, for the purpose of learning my intents and purposes in regard to perfecting and quieting my title to the piece of land lying north of the Chicago river, being that strip of accretions east of the north half of fractional section 10 and that strip of land lying east of fractional section 10 and that strip of land lying east of fractional section three, township 39, north of range 14, east of the third principal meridian.

"It is absolutely necessary that each Pottowatomie should be true to their interests and all should be one in regard to their rights to land which their fathers have never disposed of. This case of mine now pending hearing will settle the question as to whether the Indians have the sovereign right to land or not. This piece of land claimed by me is not one per cent of the land which rightfully belongs to the Pottowatomie Indians. I want each one to help me in every way they can to establish this fact. There is no other way to obtain your just and lawful rights but to help me by furnishing me with all the proof and evidence in each one's possession."

"Yours faithfully,

A GREAT STRIKE

The Sulphur Springs Will Prove Such to the City.

Mayor Bell is very much enthused over the prospects of the development of the sulphur springs. "It is the greatest thing that Benton Harbor has ever had in sight," he said this morning. The only point the mayor is doubtful about is the quantity of water that can be obtained. He believes the quality superior to the Mt. Clemens water.

It will be necessary to raise at least $50,000 to develop the spring and erect the necessary buildings. When the plans are all arranged it is thought that it will be easy to interest capital in the enterprise.

All the Pretty Girls

Of Benton Harbor are set in "The Story of Old Glory." There is a lot of them however. Conkey's hall Oct. 14 and 15. Adults 25 cents, children 15 cents. No reserved seats.

BONES YET THE THEME

Osteologist Is the Big Man in the Celebrated Chicago Wife-Murder Case.

Three More Professors Declare the State's Collection of Bones a Job Lot and the Alleged Temporal Bone a Piece of Oseous Slag, So to Speak—Fight to Go on This Week—Comment on the Evidence So Far Given.

Chicago, Oct. 4.—The close of the sixth week of the celebrated trial of Adolph L. Luetgert for the alleged murder of his wife showed the case far from completed. Luetgert's story has not been heard. The big sausagemaker may be on the witness stand a week. It will take him over one court day to tell his story under the lead of his counsel. Then will come the cross-examination. Luetgert will be carried through the history of his life. Luetgert has all along expressed an intense desire to talk. He has repeatedly declared that he wanted to tell his story to the jury. Saturday was a field day for the defense and if weight of evidence is number of witnesses the state has no human bones in its collection.

Depends on the Sesamoid Bone.
Three other osteologists entered the arena, and they fixed the identity of the femur, the alleged rib and the supposititious temporal bone as something else than human. The only thing left then in the state's collection of bones which they did not positively identify as something else than the remnant of a human being was the sesamoid. None of them, however, said the sesamoid was human. They left its ancestry in a shadow of doubt from which it may be difficult to lift it. According to their testimony it will be as easy to believe it is a knee cap of a little dog or a sesamoid from the hind foot of a hog as it is to conclude it is a bone that grew on the human joint of a woman whose whereabouts, living or dead, is an unsettled question.

Two of the experts were veterinarians—Dr. L. A. Merrill and Dr. J. Hughes, the third was Dr. W. T. Eckley, professor of anatomy, connected with the Northwestern university. The most important part of the osteological combat was where Dr. L. A. Merrill recognized the alleged rib. That queer looking piece of bone which was called a rib from a human was traced to its lair by Dr. Merrill and there it was found in the foot of an ox, which he said was its proper abiding place ever since the first ox. This piece of bone he named the navicular bone. Dr. Hughes agreed exactly with Dr. Merrill, and Dr. Eckley declared that he could not possibly place the alleged rib in any particular animal, adding that "it would require the most extravagant speculation to do so." The court ordered this stricken out.

Alleged Piece of Temporal Bone.
Possibly the fight has raged around the identity of the alleged temporal bone as hotly as any other state exhibit. All the experts for the defense have declared that it lacked characteristics that would place it anywhere and that it is the temporal bone of nothing, but simply a lot of bones fused together. This is why Dr. Merrill rejects it as human. "The chief reason for arriving at this conclusion is that we have on the upper border of this specimen a compact tissue between two layers of cancellated tissue. Now, there is no such thing in the organization of any animal—a layer of compact tissue lying between two layers of cancellated tissue—no such an example, consequently it is not a true organization. In order to identify this as a temporal bone, I should want to see some familiar structures." None of such structures, he said, were present.

SOME TALK OF CONTRADICTIONS.

There has been a good deal of talk about defense witnesses contradicting each other and themselves, and most of the local papers have exploited these alleged contradictions. Professor Dorsey, in summing up the result of Saturday's struggle, said the chief point made was when Dr. Merrill said the femur was the lower end. He admitted, however, that Drs. Allport and Merrill agreed that it was a hog's femur, but he said Dr. Allport asserted it to be the head of a femur, while Dr. Merrill said it was the lower end. It was Professor Dorsey's testimony that it was the upper end of a human femur when he was a witness. Dr. Allport emphatically denied, in an interview after court's adjournment, that he had ever said it was the head of a femur, and referred to the stenographic record, which substantiated his assertion.

Then he told the inside story of the identification of the bone. Before Professor Dorsey had testified concerning it it was shown to him along with other experts for the defense. They were in doubt as to the true character of the bone, but from the first he and Dr. Merrill were convinced it was not human. William Charles was present, and as a butcher he said he thought it was a ham bone. The reason he gave for saying that was that there were so many ham bones about the factory yard that looked exactly like it. The next day he brought a collection of them to the experts. Dr. Merrill then said it was the tibia or shin bone of a ham, and a long discussion between him and Dr. Allport followed. The point on which they were grounded was in considering Professor Dorsey's testimony that it was the head of a femur.

Finally Dr. Allport scratched off some dirt and found the nutrient canal, and that settled the point that it was the lower end of a ham bone, and Dr. Merrill at that time agreed with him, and the discussion of its identity was at an end. It was during this discussion that Professor Dorsey learned the bone was a left and not a right one, and admitted on the stand that Dr. Allport corrected him on that point. The bone is all that is left of the state's case now.

by the state at that time when Mrs. Luetgert's body was destroyed and couldn't get a result that the state had proved.

Professor Long and he demonstrated—unless the state has "something up its sleeve"—that it was absolutely impossible to dispose of a human body as the state said Luetgert had and obtain residuum similar to that of the state. One of the most important points established as it would seem by the defense, and which strongly contradicts the claim that the state's bones are Mrs. Luetgert's—whether they're human or not—according to the state's own theory is that the bones of a body actually dissolved in caustic potash have the articulations entirely destroyed and only the shaft remaining; while those the state presents have the articulating portions. The defense has also made soap as Luetgert said he did and obtained the same residuum as the state presents as part of Mrs. Luetgert's corpus delicti.

CLOSE OF THE BASE BALL SEASON.

Boston Files the Pennant with a Lead of Fifteen Points in Percentage.

Chicago, Oct. 4.—After an exceedingly close contest for the latter end of the season Boston carried away the pennant of the National Base Ball League with a lead of fifteen points over the champions of 1896, and the base ball season is closed. For weeks previous to the end it was evident that the pennant would go either to Boston or Baltimore and the latter seemed to have the best chance of winning up to two weeks ago. It took the last week to decide which would win, however, and that was done when Baltimore lost a game to Washington. The closing schedule is given below:

Played.	Won.	Lost.	P. C.
Boston	132	93	39	.707
Baltimore	130	90	40	.692
New York	131	83	48	.634
Cincinnati	132	78	56	.578
Cleveland	131	69	62	.527
Brooklyn	132	61	71	.462
Washington	132	61	71	.462
Pittsburg	131	60	71	.453
Chicago	132	50	73	.417
Philadelphia	132	55	77	.417
Louisville	130	52	78	.400
St. Louis	131	29	102	.221

Following are the final League scores: At Pittsburgh—Cleveland 4, Pittsburgh 7; at Louisville—Cincinnati—9, Louisville 8; at St. Louis—Chicago 8, St. Louis 2; at New York—Philadelphia 18, New York 5; at Baltimore—Washington 6, Baltimore 3; at Brooklyn—Boston 6, Brooklyn 15. This is the last game for a Brooklyn club, as when next season opens Brooklyn will be part of New York. (Sunday) At Louisville—Cincinnati 9, Louisville 7; at St. Louis—Chicago 9, St. Louis 10; (second game) Chicago 7, St. Louis 1.

At Indianapolis the home team beat Columbus in the Free Press cup series for the Western League by a score of 11 to 2.

Columbus, O., Oct. 4.—Columbus won the game in the Free Press cup series here yesterday—6 to 3.

Four Out of Seven Children and the Mother Die by Strychnine.

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 4.—A special to The Bee from Schuyler, Neb., says: During yesterday afternoon Frank Steinad came hastily in from Shell Creek precinct, nine miles northwest, to summon a physician to the home of Frank Davis, where he said the whole family had been poisoned. Dr. Sixta hastened out and found four of the seven children in the family and their mother dead, a fifth child in a dying condition, and a sixth victim sick. Davis and his oldest son went away early in the morning, leaving before the rest of the family breakfasted. When the meal was prepared all sat down and early in the course of the meal Mrs. Davis made some such remark as: "Eat a good breakfast, and we'll all go together."

An older son's mind was affected by the remark to the extent that he did not appease his appetite. A daughter, younger than the son, after drinking about half a cup of coffee became sick and vomited. The rest of the family continued the morning meal, although the children made wry faces and said the coffee did not taste good. Strychnine had been put in the coffee, which soon showed its effects, when those not prostrated spread the alarm, but not soon enough to avoid the fatal effects noted.

Lewes, Del., Oct. 4.—The Norwegian steamer John Wilson, ten days from Bocas del Toro, Colombia, arrived at Delaware Breakwater quarantine at noon yesterday with her flag at half mast. When the quarantine physician boarded her he found the body of Chief Engineer Charles Peterson, aged 37 years, of Bergen, Norway, who died on the passage Friday last of yellow fever.

COL. SOBIESKI TELLS ABOUT IT.

Col. John Sobieski, the famous temperance advocate, declared last night in a lecture at the Methodist church that Gen. Neal Dow was the greatest American of his day. The colonel had an acquaintance with the general and the death of the latter Saturday was occasion for Col. Sobieski to recall some of the incidents in the life of the great man from Maine.

"Thomas Jefferson was president of the United States when General Dow was born," said Mr. Sobieski, "and at the time of his birth, 1801, New England was engaged in the shipment of rum to Africa. The beverage was used to intoxicate the natives in which condition they were taken aboard vessels, brought to the United States and sold as slaves. When General Dow was 35 years old an incident occurred which changed his entire life. A woman whose husband was an habitual drunkard came to the general and requested that he visit a certain saloonist and advise him against selling her husband liquor. The liquor merchant received the imprecations with the retort that his business was licensed and he would sell to whom he pleased.

"From that day General Dow was a temperance reformer. He entered the work with determination and in 1851 the prohibitory law was enacted in Maine, as the result of the general's efforts. Four months after the general became mayor of Portland every saloon was closed. This reform was attended by blood shed, but it was a victory worth the sacrifice of life. For 18 months the general remained a confederate prisoner, and was exchanged for Governor Lee. His army experiences is a record of brilliant achievements. I was a member of the convention that nominated him for president in 1840, and in his life of 96 years we have the exemplification of the pure and most exalted type of American manhood."

Returning to the subject of temperance the colonel declared that the world was getting better. Asevidence of this fact the speaker referred to the darkness that shrouded civilization at the beginning of this century. In 1804 the members of a temperance organization at Boston pledged themselves to refrain from the use of intoxicants except on the Fourth of July and Christmas. In 1812 a minister of the gospel could be a liquor dealer, and the speaker knew of an ordination service early in the century at which 12 clergymen were drunk. In 1818 a Connecticut pastor warned the members of his congregation against drinking to such an extent that they would be unable to recognize their friends. There was no harm in drinking so long as the drinker remained rational.

Today there was total abstinence in all the churches and in three-fourths of the territory of the United States the liquor traffic was prohibited. The colonel contended that the people had no right to legalize the liquor traffic; there was no law that permitted them to barter away public virtue, and the government in licensing the liquor business was guilty of treason. In ten years, the speaker predicted, there would not be a saloon in existence. The land would be redeemed and regenerated from the murderous traffic. The advancement toward complete elimination of the business was rapid. The churches were purified of it; fraternal societies had taken up the cause and prohibited saloonists from becoming their members, and when the sentiment became so crystallized that christian conscience impelled the selection of a proper government at Washington the last vestige of the terrible vice would be obliterated.

Interesting Evening Service at the Presbyterian Church.

For some weeks past Rev. Elisha A. Hoffman has preached an illustrated sermon to his growing congregation at the First Presbyterian church on Sunday evenings. Last night his subject was the temptation of Christ and back of the pulpit was a large colored picture of Satan showing Christ the

The sermon threw new light on the temptation. It would not have been temptation, said the preacher, had it not been possible for Christ to yield. If he had no desire to yield there could have been no temptation. There was a victory, and a victory cannot be gained without a struggle. As Christ was tempted and tried so the devil will tempt and try every Christian.

A pleasing feature of the service was the solo singing of Captain Grosclaude of the Salvation army. She forgot the lines of one of her songs and broke down. "I have seen the time when I would go home and cry after breaking down," said the captain, "but that would be yielding to a temptation. I will just sing for you something I can remember," she said and she smiled and sang.

At the Congregational

Dr. Hitchcock, secretary of the American board, filled the Congregational pulpit and spoke in the interest of that society. He is a very pleasant speaker and explained in a few words the work of the board and the extension that would be made as soon as funds were provided. At the close of the sermon the annual collection for foreign missionary work was taken.

BALLOON ASCENSION AT NILES.

Prof. Casad Navigates the Air Successfully.

Prof. Casad made a very successful balloon ascension at Niles Saturday. He went up 1,000 feet and descended in a parachute, alighting on the Michigan Central railway tracks a half mile from the starting point. When in mid air the professor dropped a large quantity of advertising matter for local merchants.

Prof. Casad would like to make an ascension in Benton Harbor and this week will make an effort to interest the merchants in the proposition. Such an attraction would bring a large crowd here who would not be disappointed, as the professor is a success at aerial navigation.

A GOOD EXHIBITION.

The veriscope views of the Corbett-Fitzsimmons contest at Carson City, produced at Conkey's opera house Saturday night were witnessed by a crowded house as a result of the exclusive use of THE NEWS in advertising the exhibition.

The entertainment was highly satisfactory and was attended by a large number of ladies. Every round of the great battle was accurately produced. The final blow which sent Corbett to his knees and the movement of the referee's arm as he counted off the seconds while the vanquished pugilist was struggling to regain his feet, were wonderfully realistic.

The majority of the audience was in sympathy with Corbett. This was easily detected by the exclamations and murmurs of approval when Corbett landed on the Australian with effect.

A PLACE FOR BREWER.

Pontiac Man May Be Made Governor of Hawaii.

In case Hawaii is annexed to the United States Senator Burrows has selected Mark S. Brewer as the proper man to be made governor of the island and it is said that the president is favorable to the idea.

Among others whose claims have been warmly urged by the senator are Prof. Hamilton King, of Olivet. The Siamese mission, one of the most important in the far east, was mentioned as one for which Prof. King was well fitted. This nomination would be regarded as very appropriate in view of the fact that the last administration commissioned a Michigan man as minister resident to Korea. A number of other Michigan gentlemen were discussed, and sundry posts not yet filled were mentioned, including those at Buenos Ayres and La Guayra, Venezuela.

THE DOWAGIAC FAIR.

The Annual Exhibition is Dead of Old Age.

Dowagiac News: The Dowagiac Union Fair of 1897 is past, and goes down on the records as a failure. Not because of any bad management, for the present directors and managers are men who will and did neglect their personal business to push the fair as far toward the front as possible, but because the once vigorous Union Fair, had run its life out. Fairs, like men have their youth, growth, and decay, and just at this time, ours was bald-headed and had gray whiskers all over it.

It is easy to mistakenly consider a fair in the light of a piece of personal property belonging to the officers, and run for their special benefit, and when it comes to the point that the people are tired of its monotonous sameness, and turn their backs upon it, to blame the directors, but the logic of the matter seems to point to the fact that our old superannuated Union Fair has been, practically, a corpse for several years.

Those who have had the most experience with it considered it the same as dead when it began to hedge about the payment of premiums. But what could be done? If the income from the fair couldn't pay the premiums where should it come from? If there has been a mistake made, it was to attempt to blow life into a corpse.

The down-town, free, street fair, such as will be held in Kalamazoo October 12, 13, and 14, is the coming attraction. It is the thing for Dowagiac to contemplate for next season.

An Honest Tramp.

Dowagiac Daily News: About a year ago a tramp called at the home of Mrs. Robert Watson, on East High street, and applied to that lady's sympathy for a "bite to eat." Mrs. Watson had been entertaining company that day, and one of her husband's best Plymouth Rocks had been sacrificed to adorn the festive board. The "knight of the road" was invited to partake of a portion of the poultry, together with a sumptuous array of side-dishes. Having finished his supper, the tramp thanked the good housewife and took his departure. There was not a more surprised woman on earth yesterday than Mrs. Watson when this same man called at her home and insisted upon paying for that meal. Since his visit here of a year ago, he had obtained employment, and now intended to "square up."

A POLITICAL BLUNDER.
 In the appointment of a non-resident as postmaster at St. Joseph Congressman Hamilton has done a very rash and foolish act.
 It was known some time ago that Hamilton had promised Fred A. Woodruff the St. Joseph postmastership. Mr. Woodruff is a good fellow and is competent but he is not a resident of St. Joseph in a just or moral sense. In a legal sense he is. He moved to St. Joseph when he was elected county clerk. He succeeded in working himself in as chairman of the republican county committee last year. Last fall about election time it was generally understood that as soon as his office as county clerk expired he would move to Benton Harbor. Soon after this the postoffice bee got into his bonnet and he decided to remain in St. Joseph—provided he could get the postoffice. Had he failed in getting the appointment he would have shaken the dust of St. Joseph from his feet.
 The appointment is nothing more or less than an insult to the republicans of St. Joseph. Wars have been created on less provocation. One of the charges against King George in the Declaration of Independence was that he had "sent hither a swarm of officers to harass our people and eat out their substance." The new postmaster will mentally harass the republicans of St. Joseph and "eat out their substance." the substance that belongs to St. Joseph republicans and not to some foreign self-seeking politician.
 Mr. Hamilton has made poor choice in his selection of postmasters. In Benton Harbor he was in a tremendous hurry and treated indecently the gold democrats whose votes elected him. Had he waited until now it is doubtful whether Mr. Huntington would be appointed. The principal backer of Huntington, on account of financial or other reasons, was the First that institution his support and following has largely disintegrated and disappeared.

 If Hamilton is forced upon the people of this county for another term it is quite likely that the democratic county ticket will be elected next fall. Referees do well enough for democrats but republicans will not tolerate them.
GENERAL Neal Dow, who died Saturday, was one of the few politicians of his age who had a righteous purpose and a clear conscience. He made the unpopular doctrine of prohibition popular in his own state and was the greatest temperance reformer the world has ever known. He died at the age of 96 and by his own experience he taught that temperance brings a happy old age. The world was made better by his having lived.
 WHEN General Neal Dow was a young man he was chief of the Portland fire department and in that capacity he won distinction. He saw the effects of water in subduing flames and in after years with the same weapon, water, he drove the grog shops out of Maine.
 The local republican organ endorses the Woodruff appointment at St. Joseph. Of course. Had Hamilton appointed Billy Connolly that paper would have jumped up and "congratulated the republicans of St. Joseph."
 If Congressman Hamilton had been wise the Watervliet man would have been given "something equally as good." For instance he might have been given a fat job as one of the experts on the Luetgert trial.
 WHEN Mr. Woodruff chipped in to raise that $500 jackpot for Congressman Hamilton's organ he knew where he was at.
Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury, as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

COLOMA Courier: There is not a day going by but what there is a big kick by our citizens because the C. & W. M. railroad company does not give this city the benefit of the fast train service. It is an injustice to the town and to the people to be slighted in this respect, and the railroad company should recognize the fact that on account of the enormous amount of freight business done here the people should be given the advantages to be derived by having the fast express stop here in the evening.

THE A. O. M. is the name of a new mystic circle lately organized in Benton Harbor. Its object is to insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense and secure perfect union. Little thought is given to the blessings of liberty, the members having feasted on these for many years, or to justice and posterity. The society is controlled by an executive board of four who are given supreme power and authority on all matters. The present members of the board have been chosen on account of their pre-eminent knowledge of the lore and customs of antiquity. The motto and war cry of the organization is "Grace, Grit and Glory."

SEVEN ARE CREMATED WEYLER NOW DOOMED

Two Women and Five Children Burn to Death in a Manitoba Prairie Fire.

Giving Them No Chance to Escape the Dreadful Fate—Terrible Devastation Wrought by the Conflagration—Town Nearly Destroyed, Farm Property, Live Stock and Grain Swept Away—Railway Wreck in Colorado Costs Two Lives.

Winnipeg, Man., Oct. 4.—The prairie fire which raged all over the country Saturday, being fanned and driven by a gale of wind, died out during the night and yesterday morning's sun dawned upon a terrible scene of death and devastation. Farm houses, implements, crops and live stock were everywhere consumed, and many farmers lost their all. A most lamentable story comes from Beausejour, forty miles east of this city, where two women and five children named Moreski were burned to death. Fire came upon their house, which was in the woods, from two directions simultaneously, and shut off all means of escape. Only a few charred remains were found yesterday morning.
There were many narrow escapes. Carcasses of horses, cattle and sheep are lying all over the district, and a number of families of foreigners are homeless and utterly destitute.

One Town Nearly Wiped Out.
At Bagot, seventy miles west, the Canadian Pacific railroad station and seven cars, the Dominion Grain company's elevator with 20,000 bushels of wheat, Lawrie's store, Higginbotham's, Link's and Buchanan's stables, a cold storage warehouse and Farmer Waldron's farm buildings and crops were totally destroyed. The little town was practically wiped out of existence. At Stony Mountain fire ran up to the Canadian Pacific railroad platform where, by desperate efforts, its progress was stayed. Much hay and grain was consumed in this district.
In the Lake Francis district northwest of the city there was also extensive destruction of crops. A young farmer named Markham was terribly burned while trying to save his property.

Farm Property, Live Stock and Grain.
At Oakland, on the Portage branch of the Northern Pacific railroad, several hundred cords of wood and thousands of tons of hay were licked up. Just southwest of this city there is a large hay marsh, and fire was driven over this, consuming everything in its course.
Nearly every farmer lost his hay and many also lost their grain and implements. There were large bands of horses and cattle pasturing on the marsh, and the charred carcasses of the animals dot the ground every few paces. Jack rabbits and prairie chickens were also destroyed. The people in this city were anxious for some hours, as it was feared that the fire would come into the suburbs where many valuable residences are located. A timely change of the wind averted this impending danger.

Derailment Causes Two Deaths and May Yet Cause a Third.

Pueblo, Colo., Oct. 4.—One person killed outright, one so badly injured that he died soon after the accident, and others seriously injured is the result of a wreck on the Denver and Rio Grande narrow gauge at Cotopaxi, seventy-two miles west of Pueblo, at 2 o'clock yesterday morning, caused by the breaking of a journal on one of the coaches. The train was the first section of No. 6 from over Marshall Pass, and was slowing down to take the siding at Cotopaxi. While running at ten miles an hour a journal on the rear trucks of the first day coach broke. The car pitched over on its side and dragged with it all the cars behind—another coach, two sleepers and the company's pay car. Three tourist coaches, the baggage car and engine, all ahead of the first coach, remained on the track. The cars were all crowded with excursionists bound to the festival of Mountain and Plain at Denver.

There was little excitement and not much wreckage, as the train was running very slowly. The railroad company furnishes the following list of casualties: The dead—Mrs. F. B. Mc-Intyre, Silverton, Colo.; E. W. Seyler, Cincinnati, legs crushed, died on the way to the hospital. Seriously injured—Mrs. Robinson, of Delta, head injured; Mrs. Mary Johnson, of Telluride, right shoulder injured; Frank E. Adams, of Telluride, cut about head; Miss Ada Crompton, of Delta, injured on head; Mrs. Saunders, of Salida, cut on lip and left shoulder. A dozen or more received more or less painful injuries, but were not seriously hurt. Mrs. Mc-Intyre was in lower berth No. 4 in the forward sleeper and was found after the wreck lying dead on the ground opposite her berth window. She was badly crushed. Seyler was standing on the platform between the two coaches when the wreck occurred. He was badly crushed, but was conscious to the last.
Of the injured the death of Mrs. Robinson, of Delta, only is feared.

Cleveland, Oct. 4.—In a freight collision on the Nickel Plate railroad at Willoughby, O., yesterday, Engineer Charles Brown, of Bellevue, was killed, and seven cars loaded with grain and stock were demolished.

THREE OF A FAMILY BURNED.
Mother Rushes into a Burning House and Two of Her Sons Follow Her.

Springfield, Mass., Oct. 4.—A special to The Union from East Long Meadow says: The home of George Brownlee caught fire from a chimney. Mrs.
Brownlee, her husband and two sons—Thomas, aged 21, and James, aged 19—escaped in their night robes, but Mrs.
Brownlee and her son Thomas were a few minutes later burned in the building. Mrs. Brownlee, losing her head, rushed back into the house, thinking her sons had not come out. Thomas rushed after her to save her, and James rushed after Thomas. The mother and the elder son were overcome, while James got out, but was burned so severely that he died later.

Sagasta Promises Himself the Pleasure of Recalling the Much-Hated General.

AND SAGASTA IS ON TOP IN SPAIN.

Queen Christine Gives Him the Job of Ruling the Country and Appears to Have Dismissed the Conservatives for Cruelty and Corruption—Sagasta Frankly Tells Uncle Sam to Mind His Own Business, However, So a Special Cable Alleges.

Madrid, Oct. 4.—The queen regent, having consulted with the leading men of the nation, summoned Sagasta to form a new cabinet and that gentleman accepted the duty, the following men being in line for the different portfolios: Premier, Sagasta; department of state, Gamase; finance, Aminos Salvador; colonies, Monterio Rios; justice, Maura or Phigerver; war, General Correa; marine, Admiral Bermejo; interior, Moret.

Premier Sagasta Interviewed.
New York, Oct. 4.—A special to The World from Madrid says: The World correspondent called on Premier Sagas-ta, who said in response to queries: "You ask me if the Liberal party would assent to mediation by the United States with a view to hastening the pacification of Cuba and inducing the rebels in arms and the exiles to accept autonomy. Why should we need mediation when our intentions—long and often expressed by the Liberal party—aim at realizing all that American could suggest? No Spanish party—certainly not the Liberals—could assent to foreign interference in our domestic affairs or with our colonies. No government could hope to induce the nation to accept such interference. If America, as we firmly believe and hope, is disposed to be sincerely friendly with us, let her enforce the rules of international law and stop the flow of moral and material aid, without which the insurrection could not last six months.

New Policy for the Cubans.
"We shall reverse completely the policy of the last two years in Cuba, beginning, naturally, with the recall of Wey-ler. I informed the queen yesterday that the Liberal party would accept the responsibilities of office most willingly if her majesty honored the party with her confidence; that the Liberal party had plans for all the pending questions of the day in Spain, and certainly would grant to Cuba autonomy along the lines traced in the programme of the Cuban autonomists themselves. I said so in my manifesto in June and have repeated the same promise during the government holidays. The Liberal party is prepared to grant to Cuba all possible self-government, a broad tariff and every concession compatible with inflexible defense of Spanish rule and sovereignty in the West Indies. We believe this will satisfy the majority of the Cubans and we will act thus spontaneously."

Will Be No Use, Senor Sagasta.
But all this will be of no use if the Cubans in this city represent the case as it stands with the body of the Cuban people. To a reporter yesterday T. Estrada Palma, representative of the Cuban provisional government, said: "To the Cuban patriots it makes little difference whether a Liberal or Conservative ministry directs affairs in Spain. A change in government in Spain does not alter the case of the Cubans. They are now more firmly determined than ever to push the fight until the absolute independence of Cuba is acknowledged. I believe the Cubans are willing to pay a reasonable indemnity to Spain provided she withdraw her troops from Cuba before the island is completely ruined."

QUEEN REGENT IS FOR REFORM.

Said to Have Bounced the Conservatives for Cruelty and Corruption.

London, Oct. 4.—The Madrid correspondent of The Standard says: "The queen regent took a strong initiative during the crisis, and profoundly surprised General Azcarraga by leaving him no alternative but resignation. She frankly expressed her disapproval of the Conservative administration, especially in its treatment of the anarchist prisoners at Fortress Montjuic. She said she had allowed Senor Canovas to remain in office in the hope that he would modify the rigor of his repressive policy in Cuba and that she had repeatedly called the attention of ministers to administrative scandals and abuses. Moreover, her majesty said she waited patiently for two months after the death of Canovas in the hope that the new government would correct these evils."

"On his failure to do so she took it upon herself to consult General Cam-pos, Senor Silveira and others as to the best means of pacifying Cuba by an endeavor to satisfy the autonomists and thus virtually to steal a march on American diplomacy. All the statesmen whom she consulted appear to have advised a Liberal cabinet as the best means of attaining the queen's wishes.
Thereupon her majesty thanked General Azcarraga for his splendid services as minister of war and intimated her intention to appoint Senor Sagasta as president of the council."

"Senor Sagasta met with a hearty response on the part of all Liberal statesmen and all the Spanish stocks and securities have steadily risen on the strength of this settlement of the crisis." The Daily News says, editorially this morning: "If General Woodford has not presented an ultimatum at Madrid it seems clear that he has made representations carrying tolerably similar effects and practically resulting in the downfall of the cabinet. The change of ministry seems to tend toward an accommodation with America's known desires."

Lastest from Central America.
City of Mexico, Oct. 4.—A gentleman from Guatemala says decent people throughout Central America are tired of the rule of military robbers who have for many years plundered the public.
There is a growing feeling in Central America, such as has long existed in Guatemala, for annexation to the United States, or to find enjoyment of the benefit of some respectable government under the protection of the United States.

TO THE FUTURE.
Because of considerable business in and from Grand Rapids, Indianapolis and Chicago, and the facility with which these places can be reached from the "Twin Cities" I have concluded to locate in Benton Harbor.
As a stranger soliciting a share of your patronage it is but just to you and to myself that I make some mention of my fitness for the work I would undertake. I was bred in and to the healing art, my father, brother and many relatives being physicians. I have attended and hold credentials from leading homeopathic and allopathic medical colleges. For eighteen years I have successfully conducted a large practice. I have held high office in State and National medical societies, and received honorary professional recognition from abroad. I have had considerable hospital experience, am something of a medical writer and author, and have been professor in reputable medical colleges.
These frank statements can be easily verified. If they commend me to your confidence it will give me pleasure to professionally advise and assist health-ward all who need and desire my services.

I am prepared to and will practice all branches of medicine and surgery, but because of special research, experience and success in this direction, greatly prefer and particularly invite those suffering from obscure, complicated, delicate, and all chronic or lingering diseases to consult me. Obstinate cases that others have failed to cure are solited.

My office is at 112 East Main street, one door east of the postoffice.
Respectfully,
C. EDSON COVEY, M. D.

Peter English and J. C. Holmes Refuse a Gas Franchise.

SOUTH BEND, Oct. 4.—J. C. Holmes of Buchanan and Peter English of Benton Harbor have refused to take the gas franchise recently passed by the council. Mr. English is thoroughly discouraged and will make no further attempt to get a franchise from the council.
The franchise that was granted him he could not accept as it contained provisions which the council put in without his knowledge or sanction and it made an entirely different ordinance from the one presented by him. One of these provisions was that the plant should revert to the city if at any time Mr. English failed to live up to the terms of the contract. Mr. Holmes says that under such arbitrary conditions it was impossible to get capitalists who had promised to help the enterprise to take any stock in it whatever.

As They are Seen by I. M. Weston of Grand Rapids.
I. M. Weston, former owner and editor of the Grand Rapids Democrat, has given the Chicago Times-Herald his idea of Benton Harbor and St. Joseph. He says:
The dual cities of St. Joseph and Benton Harbor, at the mouth of St.

the Saginaw, is growing rapidly and constantly. It has grown right along during the past four years of commercial depression. It has 15,000 inhabitants, the biggest lake commerce of any east shore port, and is exalted on the lake only by Chicago and Milwaukee.

"Her fine harbor first drew the attention of the early French explorers to St. Joseph. Twenty or thirty years ago many men who had built and sailed vessels for years tried to make steamers pay between St. Joseph and Chicago, but failed. A few years ago a popular and prosperous young lumberman of St. Joseph made a new venture and nautical circles were deeply agitated when they learned that Jim Graham had bought a steamer and would run her between St. Joseph and Chicago. "Why, he never built a boat, never run a boat. His lumber earnings will fade like dew before the sun," was the talk of the town. Yet the new steamer paid from the start. The young lumberman bought more boats and they all paid and today the flag of Commodore Graham floats from the mastsheads of some of the largest and finest iron steamships that make the port of Chicago. The Graham & Morton transportation company's fleet bring more passengers and freight to Chicago than any other line on Lake Michigan. President Graham has given the old timers some new and valuable ideas on lake transportation. He hates an empty steamboat as nature abhors a vacuum and he was the first to figure out that a thousand passengers at a dollar a head, who load and unload themselves, pay better on a steamer than fifty at $4 a head. His freight policy is the same. His four big boats always run full and always pay.

Herbert Spencer is peculiarly sensitive to discordant noises, or those which he regards as such. A sound which is said to make Mr. Spencer forget that he is a philosopher is chattering of a well come to the dawn. When the roosters begin to crow, Mr. Spencer ceases to sleep, and there are whispers that the remarks he makes on such occasions thoroughly disprove his affiliation with the stoics. Some years ago, during a stay in Scotland, he was fairly maddened by the performance of a cock that crowed inconceivably early. After a period of prolonged suffering it occurred to him that if the bird were tied to its perch it would be unable to rise for the act of crowing. So, by a fine effort of induction, Mr. Spencer went to the henhouse soon after midnight and with his pocket handkerchief tied his enemy firmly to its perch. Then he went back to bed, and, though history does not record whether the expedient silenced the rooster or not, Mr. Spencer was so confident that it would that he slept calmly until long after the dreaded hour of his usual awakening.—New York Times.

One of the most interesting of the uses of electricity is in controlling a balky or lazy horse. A western Pennsylvania gentleman owned a horse which he said was worth $1,000, provided he could cure him of balking. It was suggested that he try electricity. He purchased a three volt storage battery and connected it by wires with the bit and the crupper. The battery was placed in the road cart to which the horse was attached. At first the horse refused to move, but stood with all four feet braced. Then the owner touched the button connected with the battery. When the horse felt the shock, he mortified, jumped and began to move off at a lively pace. Every day for a week he was given the same lesson. His owner, who does not care to sell him, declares that now he never balks, bites or kicks. The West Pennsylvania Humane society, which investigated the method, came to the conclusion that a small amount of electricity used upon a horse was more humane than a whip.—Exchange.

England's Shortest Railway.
The shortest railway line in Great Britain is the Brighton Dyke Steep Grade railway, which was opened recently, adding a new feature to the attractions of Devil's Dyke. The Dyke, which is a favorite resort of the Brightonians, is a great but remarkably regular chasm on the South downs, situated about six miles to the northwest of Brighton. The view from the tableland, nearly 700 feet above the sea level, which surrounds it is one of the finest panoramic views obtainable in the country. The new line, which descends direct from the top of the hill to a point about a quarter of a mile distant from the village of Poyning in the plain below, is only 840 feet in length.
